

Stephen Harper to step down as leader after Conservative defeat

Tories performed strongly in the Prairies, but bled support elsewhere

CBC News Posted: Oct 19, 2015 11:43 PM ET | Last Updated: Oct 20, 2015 10:37 AM ET

STARGAZER 2007

PSYCHIC NEARLY HAD IT RIGHT: ORIGINAL HARPER PREDICTION, STARGAZER 2007

Stephen Harper was upbeat in the face of a one-sided election defeat, but will step down as Conservative leader following the result.

Conservative Party president John Walsh released a short statement shortly before Harper took the stage in Calgary, indicating Harper had instructed him to reach out to the elected caucus to appoint an interim leader and begin the next leadership selection process. The party is expected to...

Harper, who has been in office since 2006, said in "our home..."

- ANA...
- Who...
- Who...

CANADIAN PRIME MINISTER, STEPHEN HARPER wins three terms in office before stepping down for health (and injury) reasons. Injury comes from putting himself in the direct line of fire! He will see the end of his third term....

Harper did not mention his political future in his speech. He said he had spoken to and congratulated Justin Trudeau, the fourth Liberal leader he has faced in a federal election.

The Conservative leader said it was an electoral result he would "accept without hesitation," and he pledged to help Trudeau with the transition of power.

Harper had led the party to increases in seat totals in three consecutive elections. But in this marathon campaign, the party's attempt to paint Trudeau as too inexperienced for the highest office in the land proved unsuccessful.

Harper has spent over nine years in power and 13 years as a party leader, having officially become leader of the Opposition as Alliance leader in May 2002.

BEAR... GREENSPAN: "A law for the rich and a law for the poor. However in this case (no pun intended) justice is served. If the law is not followed, the law is broken. EDDY) GREENSPAN is retained, also deal and dumb! It's the kiss of death for some of his clients. Of the several high profile Canadian defendants he has acted for (convicted murderers Deme-ter, Buxbaum, etc), not only have they gone to jail for life—which, by the way, is a big joke in Canada—they've also had to pay good old Eddy about a million bucks in fees! (The unkindest cut of all!) Lucky for them there's no death penalty in Canada, yet. Mores the pity.

...and categori- s to the hen it be- n the tacks from g more ous an ap- edict the f war from

Believe it or not! The Canadian Government will take a referendum to the people on the death penalty—which will pass!

CANADIAN PRIME MINISTER, STEPHEN HARPER wins three terms in office before stepping down for health (and injury) reasons. Injury comes from putting himself in the direct line of fire! He will see the end of his third term....

As restitution is made to Canadian Chinese citizens or their descendants for the degrading Head Tax put on them to enter Canada, so too will all Native peoples (Canadian Natives) come into their own as they nationally unite. One loud and powerful voice in Ot-tawa.